At a special session of the council last night an ordinance was passed authorizing the refunding of $25,000 bonds falling due next month. These bonds are a part of the general indebtedness of the city and bear 10 per cent. An attempt will be made to refund the paper at 5 per cent.

Revenue Stamps on Receipts and Shipments. No more of the revenue stamps arrived in the city yesterday and there was some squabbling over payments. The express companies at first refused to pay the stamps on bills of shipment, but yesterday they paid all stamps. The Postal Telegraph company was probably the only place in the city that had stamps.

LOST HIS LIMBS

Fred Wolf of Andover Loses Both Arms and Legs.

Fred Wolf, a boy living near Andover, 8 years of age, met with an accident on his father's farm Friday night that will probably cause his death. In some way he got caught in a harrow and had both legs cut off below the knee and both arms. He was alive yesterday morning, but chances for recovery are all against him.

RE-UNITED.

(Written by Mrs. S. I. Bell, of Houston, Texas, for Mrs. G. W. Strode, in memory of her late husband.)

At twilight, in the gloaming,
When duty's task is done,
My thoughts are ever roaming,
To the land, where victory's won;

I see the forms of loved ones,
Glide past the open door,
I hear remembered voices,
Of loved ones, gone before.

I wonder in the gloaming
It souls so pure and bright,
Ever turn their glances earthward,
E'er plume their wings for flight;

To the weary home of pilgrims,
When sorrow has full sway,
With sadness and temptation,
Along their journey way.

Do they hover 'round our pillow?
Do they color all our dreams?
Do they bring a glimpse of heaven?
Do they whisper of life's gleams?

Do they mourn with us in sorrow?
Do they weep with us when sad?
Do they welcome each tomorrow,
With the hope that we are glad?

I know when we're reclining
On the weary bed of death,
When failing eyes are closing—
When we're yielding up our breath—

Those forms of dearest, loved ones—
Will bless our waning sight,
They will cluster 'round our bedside,
To cheer the waning light.

They will hush our lowest sighing,
They will close our dying eyes,
They will fill our souls with longing,
With joyful, sweet surprise;

They will murmur of their happy home,
They will clasp us in their arms,
They will bear us to the "Great Beyond,"
Freely from this world's alarms.

I love the hour of gloaming,
When through the gates ajar,
I hear all heaven resounding
With the chorus from afar;

Seraphic forms are flitting,
Beach gold and azure skies,
And burnished clouds of incense
From heavenly altars rise.

Oh, who can know the rapture,
The ecstasy, the bliss,
Of meeting long-lost loved ones,
In a happier home than this!

Our several hearts are united,
Love's broken links re-bound,
Our sorrows all required,
With praise shall heaven resound.

MONEY DUE COUNTY

Commissioners Adopt an Itemized Report

WHICH AUTHORIZES CREDIT

To the County Treasurer of $32,658.98.

Yesterday the following report from the office of county clerk was submitted to the commissioners and adopted. It shows that the county has been charged up with various amounts from different funds that should have been otherwise distributed, from 1888 to 1896, both years inclusive. The commissioners have ordered the amounts charged to proper funds, which throws a credit of over $32,658 to the county:

Wichita, Kan., June 25.
To the Board of County Commissioners:

Gentlemen:—I beg with submit to your honorable body my report in writing, showing the several amounts erroneously charged to Sedgewick county on the books of the county from 1888 to 1896, both inclusive, and showing specifically what accounts should have been charged with these amounts. I have spent much time and labor in compiling these figures and can produce in detail the specific items making up these several sums and certify them to be true and correct and a just and positive credit to which the county is entitled, and I hereby recommend that your honorable body make an order directing the county clerk to charge the several sums named in the detailed statement attached to and made a part of this report, with the respective sums with which they are therein shown to be chargeable, and to credit Sedgewick county with the same.

Respectfully submitted,
A. M. DENNY.
